Dear Colleagues and Friends,

I am pleased to announce that we have reached the end of the ordinary SIdP cultural programming for the year 2023.

This Continuing Education Course has been designed for our Dental and Hygienist Members in order to provide them with the SIdP point of view on a complex and delicate topic with possible Medical-Legal implications. The goal is to speak freely and exclusively from the clinician's point of view not only about the failure and complications in periodontology and implantology, but also about possible mistakes and errors that can lead to short and long term failure.

Nowadays we have access to scientific evidence, established Recommendations and International Guidelines on the treatment of periodontitis and peri-implant diseases, as well as various communication projects in which our Society has always been a leader thanks to the contribution of our institutions and individual Members; yet our clinical practice cannot be free from problems related to complications and failures even in the hands of the most gifted and experienced clinicians.

Do we really know the factors that allow us to reduce complications? Do we know when a complication is the result of an error? And above all, once a complication has occurred, what can we do to reduce its consequences on the final result?

These will be the main questions that the Coordinators and Speakers of this Course will try to address.

As always, the course will be in total SIIdP style, with detailed arguments starting with diagnostic and prognostic considerations and then focusing on the surgical and non-surgical clinical aspects in periodontology and implantology. Each presentation will have the characteristics of a real didactic course with many images and videos.

Topics for the sessions dedicated to the Dental Hygienists will also address how to communicate a clinical complication/failure to the patient and the dental team and how to contribute during the post-surgical healing phase to the management of surgical wound failure in order to reduce the consequences of a complication on the final result.

The Coordinators, as expert clinicians on the specific topic of each session, will have the task of introducing the topic and working before and during the Course with the speakers in order to ensure the best outcome of each individual presentation, to avoid overlapping and to encourage the live participation of the audience through a discussion which can lead in the end to shared conclusions.

Our Top SIIdP speakers were asked to present a clinical nightmare case, show the treatment that was done in order to solve the case and describe all the clinical considerations needed to avoid such mistakes and reduce complications in future similar clinical cases.

I sincerely thank the Coordinators and Speakers for their availability and competence and I invite you to participate in Florence, where I'll be happy to welcome each of you in person.
