

CONTINUING EDUCATION COURSE PERIODONTAL AND PERI-IMPLANT PLASTIC SURGERY

For Dentists, Dental Hygienists and Students

Firenze (I), May 10-11, 2024
Palazzo dei Congressi

Dear Colleagues, dear Friends,

Over the last two decades, periodontal plastic surgery has been undergoing an incredible cultural revolution, with the publication of many innovative surgical techniques and different clinical trials that have demonstrated the clinical effectiveness of such procedures. Therefore, once a niche topic for a few elite specialists, reconstructive surgery of periodontal soft tissues, has become a highly current topic for numerous dentists, who place both patients' periodontal health and esthetics at the core of their profession. At the same time, this cultural process has also shifted to implant dentistry. In the beginning of the millennium it was thought that peri-implant soft tissues was absolutely secondary to bone support, while today there is high evidence that an adequate quantity of peri-implant soft tissue prevents inflammation, guarantees greater long-term stability and improves the esthetics of implant-prosthetic therapy.

With this cultural background, the course on May 10-11, 2024 will be completely dedicated to "Periodontal and peri-implant plastic surgery".

In the splendid setting of the Congress Palace in Florence, the SIdP will host some of the best international specialists in their field for a unique and memorable journey into surgical procedures for the reconstruction of periodontal and peri-implant tissues. We will go through the main surgical evolution in the field of root coverage and interdental papillae, in wound healing, as well as the use of different flap designs, connective grafts and biomaterials. Similarly, we will try to define the state of the art and evidence of the importance of soft tissues around implants for sites of high esthetic value. At the same time, we will have a wonderful course for the Dental Hygienists to define the prevention phase and the therapeutic support strategies for muco-gingival defects.

I am sure it will be a memorable event that will allow you to interact with some of the best international specialists in their field and to have clear answers to your questions.

It will be a wonderful opportunity to meet again in a unique city, in your professional home, the SidP!

I'm looking forward to seeing you in Florence.
